FIGHTERS ARE IN FINE FETTLE FOR THE BATTLES TONIGHT

(By "A. Fan")

We have observed the four actors who will appear at the Airdome to-night very closely and note that each bears the marks of a well trained gladiator, and anxious to demonstrate his superiority over his opponent.

Sudenberg and Dempsey will appear first, and as these gentlemen have continued their training since their last meeting on May 31st, there is just cause to believe that this battle will be fast and furious from the start.

The featherweight championship of the Pacific coast is the honor which Bratton and Moore will contest in the second event. These little men have trained faithfully, because they both believe that this battle will decide their future in the ring. Each is anxious to meet some such man as Frank Malone, and then there will be a chance to dispute the world's championship in the featherweight class with the holder of the title, John Kilbane.

It is safe to predict that the results of these two battles will be decisive, and those who are unfortunate enough to be absent will surely miss a first class entertainment. Referee Jack Minnick will weigh in Bratton and Moore at 4:30 this afternoon at the Cobweb. Each must make 122 pounds at that hour. The tickets are going fast and a big attendance is certain. A considerable delegation is expected over from Goldfield.

MINA IS EXCITED

and got a return of $140 in gold. Mr. Nelson came into Mina for supplies with his partner, who saw and panned the strike and brought the assay from Salt Lake. Mr. Nelson came on to Mina in the evening and told W. R. Smith, an old friend and former associate, and Dr. P. C. Paché about the strike, stating that it panned $40 across 40 feet but he had not done any amount of work on the croppings.

Nelson took his supplies and went back the following morning, his partner remaining to take the train to Salt Lake, showing the rock he had brought in, which panned freely a very fine grade of gold, the quartz being similar to that of Goldfield. U. R. Smith and Dr. Paché went to the district and Smith, who was familiar with the country, having spent six years and $4000 looking for the source of the rich float found in 1905, located the adjoining ground and also a town-site named Goldsmith. Upon his return June 7th, there was a rush out from Mina, and several auto loads and teams went out. Dr. Paché visited the strike and made pannings from the croppings and took samples. J. H. Miller, John Adams and Mr. O'Neill examined the strike and took samples, the returns of which will soon be known. The croppings are low but the vein is about 40 feet wide, judging from the small amount of work done, and can be traced for 200 feet in length, the vein lying in the low porphyry hills and being covered with surface dirt.

It is located between Athens (Juniper) and the Harvey-Taylor mine in a district that is distinctly a gold one with many good surface showings. Goldyke can be seen from the diggings and Pictolus lies to the north. There is not enough work done to determine more than that there is a big ledge that gives good gold pannings from the surface croppings, and heavy float. The vein is in porphyry and there is

JEWELRY QUARTZ IS FOUND AT VOLCANO

JOHN MUSSER PROVES STRIKE IN DIRECTION OF THE FREVERT LEASE

The discoverer of Bonanza ore at Volcano, John Musser, has made another find, news of which was brought to town last night by Charley Taylor and Ralph Wardell, who visited camp yesterday. Mr. Taylor says that the discoverer was trenching about midway between the original shaft and the Al Frevert lease, when he encountered quartz similar in characteristics to that first uncovered. It is real jewelry stuff.

News spread about the diggings and soon all the miners and prospectors in the district were on the scene, hunting for a further extension of the rich stuff. Samples brought to Tonopah will run up in the thousands of dollars to the ton.

evidence of old hot springs in the immediate vicinity.

The district is best reached via Mina, and big samples of the croppings may be seen here. The gold is $18-$20 quality and finely disseminated all through the quartz, requiring fine grinding, there being no coarse gold.

J. A. McLaughlin, the Tonopah assayer, made a test today of a sack of samples taken with care across 40 feet. The Return was $80.80 in gold and $2 in silver.

AMUSEMENTS

PASTIME THEATER

"Rumpelstiltskin," one of the famous Mutual masterpieces, with America's eminent character actor, Clyde Tracy, supported by Elizabeth Hurbridge, will be the feature at the Pastime today. This is one of those exceptionally good fairy tales that hold the audience, both old and young, from beginning to end, and at its conclusion they are loath to leave, so thoroughly is the picture enjoyed. Ince, the celebrated producer, has made this his masterpiece. The picture had a phenomenal run at the Portola theater, San Francisco, for several weeks. Two special reels in addition to the above picture.

Tonight is the night that patrons are again given gift coupons, it being bargain day at the Pastime.

Tomorrow Carlyle Blackwell will be seen in "The Key to Yesterday," from the book by Charles Neville Buck. Special reels will be shown before the main feature.

Beginning Monday, June 14th, the first evening show will start at 7:15, the second about 8:45. These hours will prevail during the summer.—Adv.

BUTLER THEATER

Another Paramount feature will be shown at the Butler this evening. This time it is Max Figman, the prominent comedian, and Lolita Robertson, in Jesse L. Lasky's "What's His Name," a five-reel picture made from McCutcheon's novel. It is a stage romance and is said to possess every virtue that constitutes a well made, well played film story, and is looked forward to with a great deal of interest. Lezette and Hedges, the popular vaudeville team, will be heard in a change of the latest songs, and the orchestra will render musical selections of a quality that is pleasing to all. The public is certainly enjoying this new brand of music as is evidenced by the requests that are received every day for various selections, which are cheerfully played. Remember, the music is here just the same in the afternoon as it is in the evening, and a cool and well ventilated theater in which to listen to it.

Tomorrow a children's picture will be added to the program at the matinee only. "Mr. Santa Claus" is the name of the picture and every child who sees it will enjoy it. Another added attraction on the Saturday program will be Dare Devil Art Smith, the human comet, looping the loop in his aeroplane at midnight, over the San Francisco exposition grounds. The regular program will consist of a three-reel Essanay feature and a Hearst-Selig weekly.—Adv.

About sixty couples made merry last evening in the Elks' hall, where the semi-monthly dance was given. It was a shirtwaist party and many appeared thus garbed. Music was furnished by a four-piece orchestra.

ORE ON DUMP NOW

GOING TO THE MILL

The West End Consolidated Mining company this morning put auto trucks to work hauling a large dump of ore, that had been extracted from the West End-McNamara vein, prior to the litigation with the Jim Butler company. It is being conveyed to the West End mill for treatment. It is estimated this lot of ore will mill in the neighborhood of $50,000.
